Royle Printing Receives Award in Statewide Print Competition

April 2010 – Sun Prairie, Wisconsin – Royle Printing received an award for outstanding achievement in Fashion/Health/Pop Culture Magazines in the 10th Annual Graphics Excellence Awards, a statewide printing competition hosted by the Printing Industries of Wisconsin, the state’s trade association for printing and the graphic arts.

Competing against nearly 800 entries from printing and graphic arts firms from the state, Royle Printing received a Best of Division Award. The company’s winning submission was Harris FloteBote for Dino Publishing.

“We are so proud of our winning team,” said Chris Carpenter, President and CEO of Royle Printing. “It’s an honor to be recognized by the industry as a company that produces top quality, award winning materials.”

Judi Wolters, PIW’s Vice President, agrees, “We especially celebrate print this year as we mark the 10th anniversary of the competition. Both existing and emerging technologies in the industry were well represented. As the standard of excellence continues to rise determining the winning entries gets more difficult. Royle Printing should be very proud of their company’s achievement and the excellent work done by its employees.”

The GEA’s recognize those responsible for the creation and production of print communications in Wisconsin. The competition promotes excellence in print communications and rewards companies and individuals who produce the best in print media. PIW is the state’s graphic arts trade association, representing an industry with more than 40,000 employees and $7.25 billion in annual sales (2009 Print Market Atlas).

Royle Printing is an independently owned and managed printer specializing in web and sheetfed high quality print. With over 60 years experience in the graphic arts industry, Royle has capabilities similar to larger printers; however, it remains small enough to be customer focused and flexible.
