

3rd Shift Operations Supervisor

Royle Printing, recognized nationally as a high quality, full service commercial web and sheetfed printing company, is looking for an experienced 3rd Shift Operations Supervisor. Having recently made significant investments in equipment, technology and strategic alliances we have developed a highly productive and customer focused operating platform.

Interested candidates will have three to five years of previous experience in a printing environment; including previous supervisory experience. Knowledge of presses, cutters, folders, stitchers, perfect binding and postal regulations is required. The successful candidate will monitor productivity standards and provide leadership and technical expertise to our 3rd shift prep, press, finishing and distribution operations, ensuring that client deliverables are met on a daily basis. The candidate must have demonstrated ability for success in a fast paced, deadline-driven environment and have great written and oral communication skills.

- A part of a growing organization that has chosen to focus on people...our customers, our employees, our business partners and our community.
- A part of a company that is inspired by our customers and dedicated to producing great results.
- A part of an organization that is committed to helping you reach your career goals and aspirations.
